

Exercise 14: Answer the following questions:

1. Hold both hands out in front of you with palms facing up to the ceiling. With eyes closed, imagine that the part that is opposed to you changing your financial situation is sitting on one of your palms. Think about what it does in your life and ask it what its purpose is in doing these things. Continue you ask it the same question for each response until you find its highest intent or purpose. Write down what you discover on the lines below.
